Visva-Bharati (A Central University and an Institution of National Importance)

Visva-Bharti at Santiniketan, located in a rural setting in Birbhum district, West Bengal, was founded by Gurudev Rabindranath Tagore in 1901 as a residential school, "Brahmacharya Asrama." This Asrama Vidyalaya became "Visva-Bharati" on December 23, 1921; finally, in 1951, it was declared a Central University of National Importance by an Act of Parliament of India. On September 17, 2023, UNESCO declared Visva-Bharati as the first World Living Heritage campus. Details about Visva-Bharati are available at <https://visvabharati.ac.in/>. Visva-Bharati is about 160 km away by road from Kolkata. The nearest railway station is Bolpur (Santiniketan) on the Eastern Railway, and the air terminal is in Kolkata and Durgapur (Andal). The University campus is about 5 km from the Bolpur (Santiniketan) railway station. Santiniketan can be reached in a little over two and a half hours from Kolkata by train covering 146 km. The weather in February remains moderate, and the temperature ranges between 19°C and 32°C.

Visva-Bharati Library Network (VBLN)

The Library in Santiniketan started its journey with the establishment of the Ashram Vidyalaya in 1901 with Tagore's personal collection. Tagore emphasized reading books for the students' all-around development. With time, Visva-Bharati Library has grown with a comprehensive collection of about 7.66 lakh documents, comprising the Central Library, 12 sectional libraries, and 28 seminar libraries. The Central Library itself possesses 454581 volumes of books, around 10,000 users, and a daily transaction of 400 books. Presently, all the libraries of the Visva-Bharati Library Network (VBLN) (<https://vblibrarynetwork.in/>) are fully automated and networked. VBLN provides modern library services, namely RSS (feed) services; Remote Access & Discovery Services; Mobile Apps; Uploading digitized resources of more than thirty thousand old & rare books; Application of QR code; Uploading Ph.D. theses on ShodhGanga; Similarity checking services through DrillBit, anti-plagiarism software, etc. Some innovative practices/ services include Visva-Bharati Ph.D. Scholars Lecture Series, Scholars Assistance Cell, Open Access to bookshelves, Holiday Library Services, Academic/Research Skill Development Program organization, Scholarship Alert services, making Library Friends Group, Participation of students/scholars in collection development, etc.

Universal Briefing

"Universal Briefing- A Platform for Information Exchange" is a non-profit organization founded amidst one of the most challenging times in recent history—the COVID-19 pandemic of 2020. It was born out of the altruistic spirit of a diverse group of individuals of varying ages and backgrounds who shared a common vision and compassionate intent. In its initial stages, Universal Briefing focused primarily on offering relief and support to those affected by the pandemic. However, as its members engaged in deep discussions and strategic planning, they recognized the potential for a broader and more impactful mission. The organization soon evolved beyond its charitable beginnings to encompass a larger, visionary goal: to contribute significantly to the academic and intellectual growth of the community, particularly within the field of Library and Information Science (LIS). Universal Briefing aims to elevate young professionals, foster a thriving intellectual environment, and inspire a mindset of exploration and courage - captured in the phrase "where the mind is without fear."

Today, Universal Briefing stands as a registered, voluntary non-profit trust and an academic forum dedicated to LIS professionals. Headquartered in Kolkata, India, the organization brings together LIS educators, librarians, students, and researchers. Its name embodies its mission, emphasizing the role of information as the foundational element that connects and informs the world. This platform for information exchange actively promotes the advancement of knowledge and resources within the LIS field. Universal Briefing's core activities focus on nurturing professional growth through a range of academic and developmental initiatives. These include organizing national and international seminars, conferences, workshops, study circles, and specialized lectures. In addition, Universal Briefing offers NTA-NET (UGC) and SET preparatory classes led by seasoned professionals to help LIS students succeed in their academic and professional pursuits. To further its mission, Universal Briefing also encourages research, publishing newsletters, books, e-books, and peer-reviewed journals, contributing to the academic body of knowledge. Through these efforts, it strives to be a beacon of intellectual empowerment and a valuable resource for the LIS community, dedicated to the exchange of information and the ongoing advancement of knowledge for the greater good, fosters research activities, and publishes newsletters, books, e-books, peer-reviewed journals, etc.

About the Seminar

Indic thought and wisdom have now been discussed in various forums and conferences. Today, it is exciting to note that Indic thought and wisdom have been beginning to catch attention over the last decade, with the world increasingly realizing the flaws and limitations of the current individual and societal development model. Therefore, it is high time we should do something from our side. The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 has also paid enough attention and has given a much-needed thrust not only for the inclusion of Indian Knowledge Systems (IKS) in the national curriculum and pedagogy but also for promoting authentic research and innovation in the IKS to identify/address the challenges and concerns of the 21st century.

The world faces various challenges for sustainable development that can no longer be ignored. Our responsibility is to move toward building communities where sustainability, inclusivity, and values are the buzzwords, and with great enthusiasm and positive initiatives to be taken to explore and understand the IKS.

Indian Knowledge Systems have a strong foundation in Indian culture, philosophy, and spirituality and have evolved through thousands of years. On the other hand, sustainability is emerging as a key theme in almost all research fields in the contemporary era. The proposed International Conference focuses on tracks across all these fields related to Indian Knowledge Systems. This Conference will provide a platform for researchers, academicians, and institutions to present and discuss varied opinions and research works in the domain of IKS to achieve sustainable development goals and their relevance in modern times.

The proposed two-day International seminar on "The Role of Libraries in Unveiling the Indian Knowledge Systems in Digital Era" during 21-22 February 2025 aims to offer an opportunity to exchange new advancements in the area of listed themes and sub-themes for further progress and opens a new way to proceed with the bilateral and multilateral interdisciplinary research in areas of mutual interests for achieving the sustainable development goals (SDGs). Moreover, this international seminar's input may help to identify the role of Libraries and Information Centres towards IKS in the current Digital Era. Library professionals, academicians, and policy makers may have insights to customize how to progress.
